Grup Parlem will have a key role in the consolidation process

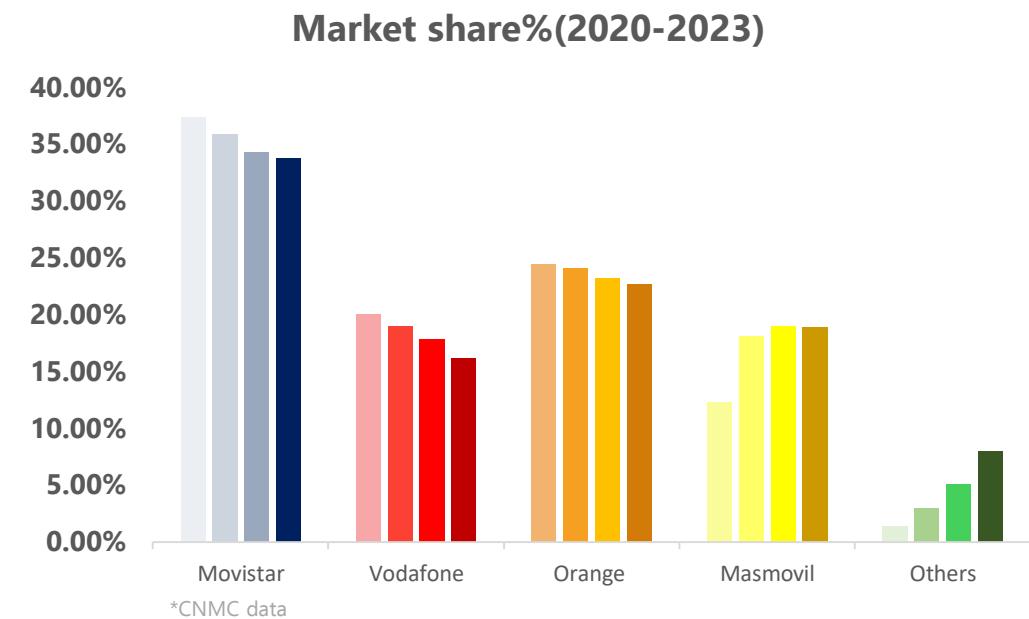

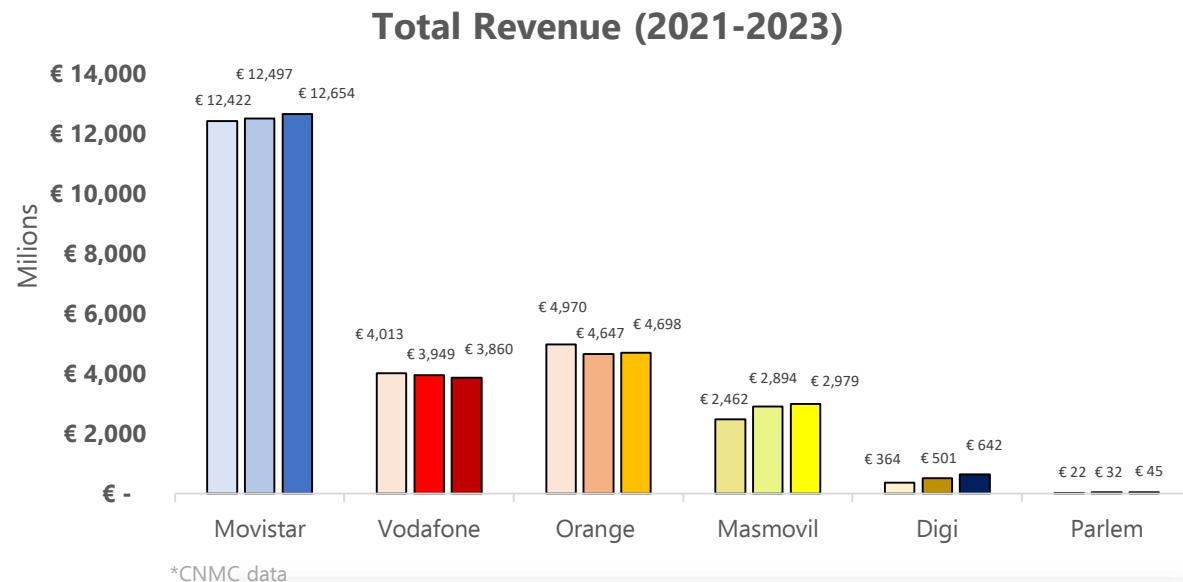

- 1 Increase customer base

With its established geographical presence, product portfolio and sales network, Parlem is well positioned to keep building its growth plan, acquiring an even larger share from the increasing number of portabilities that will result from the consolidation effect.
- 2 Increasing M&A opportunities

The evolving consolidation process on a national scale increases the opportunity to acquire a regional operators and assets owner like Parlem, increasing further the National Telco's market share and reach to high-growth markets like Catalonia and Valencia.
